PREFACE

THE HUGUENOTS

2009743

The Preamble to the Constitution of The Huguenot Society of New Jersey contains the following quotation, which summarizes their noble character and sturdy adherence to their religious convictions that influenced their whole way of life. Suffering persecution and massacre for their Protestant religion refined and welded them into a solid body of influential people, who have left their imprint for good, wherever they have settled.

"There have been few people on earth so upright and single minded, so faithful in the discharge of their duties towards God and man, so elevated in aim, so dignified in character. The enlightened, independent, firm, God-fearing spirit of the French Protestants has blended its influence with that of the Puritans to form our national character and to establish those civil and religious institutions by which we are distinguished and blessed above all people.

Therefore America's indebtedness to the French Protestants should be recognized as a means to promote patriotism, quicken appreciation of civil and religious liberty, and heighten in the Americans of today a sense of their responsibility to preserve those rights and blessings which cost the Huguenots so dearly to establish on our shores - "

In gathering together the following data no attempt has been made to carry out collateral lines of the Bonnell Family, but simply to trace our own ancestors in descent from the founder, Thomas Bonnell.

Childrens names and dates, wherever possible, are recorded to help in establishing certain facts in connection with names and places. It is hoped that this addition to the Budd and Gibby lines will prove interesting and valuable to their descendants.

THE BONNELL FAMILY

The following notes have been supplied by Mrs. Grace L. Gwynn, M. A., Research Assistant of the Huguenot Society of London, England, and by Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Koehler, who referred to "The Huguenot Society of London Publications" Volume 1, Part 2.

"This name is found in the records of the Huguenot Society of London under the spelling Boneel as well as Bonell, Boonell or Bonnell, BUNNELL.

There is no doubt that the Bonnells found in Norwich during the reign of Queen Elizabeth were Protestants, who had fled from persecution abroad. (Queen Elizabeth reigned from 1558 to 1603).

Here a Thomas Boonell settled and he appears in a list of foreigners paying taxes as such. He was living in St. John's Parish in the Wymer Ward. He had come from Ypres, France (Flanders) as a refugee from the religious persecutions under the Duke of Alva.

He became a leading figure in Norwich and rose to become Mayor.

The baptisms of his children are recorded in the registers of the Walloon Church at Norwich, where he was an elder or deacon or both in 1595. Thomas Boonell died in 1607 and his will was proved by the Consistory Court there.

In 1607 Benjamin Bonnell, son of Thomas, the English Founder brought a letter from the Walloon Church at Norwich, to the London Dutch Church. Benjamin was the younger son of Thomas by his first wife and the father of William."

I

THOMAS BONNELL (or Boonell)

Fled from Ypres, France (Flanders) about 1577-79.

Settled in Norwich, England.

He was married twice, but the name of his first wife and date of marriage are unknown.

His second wife's name, recorded at the baptism of his youngest daughter, Judye, was Jaque Marie Bygote.
